

Media Consent Form

July 2025

This form seeks your informed consent to use your image, logo, and/or quote in AbSec's promotional materials.

These materials may be used to communicate our work, celebrate community achievements, and advocate for systemic reform. They are shared across digital, print, and public platforms.

AbSec acknowledges the Traditional Custodians of Country across New South Wales. We operate on unceded Aboriginal land and honour Elders past, present, and emerging. This consent process is guided by our cultural protocols and the principles of Indigenous data sovereignty, ensuring that all contributions are handled with respect, integrity, and accountability.

Scope of Use

Your contribution may appear in one or more of the following:

- AbSec's Annual Reports
- Social media campaigns (e.g. Facebook, LinkedIn, Instagram)
- AbSec's official website
- Printed publications (e.g. brochures, factsheets)
- Media releases and advocacy statements
- Videos, presentations, and event materials
- Other AbSec marketing and communications content.

Your Rights

AbSec is committed to upholding your rights and ensuring your contributions are represented accurately and respectfully. In line with Indigenous data sovereignty principles, you have the right to:

Be informed about how your contribution will be used, stored, and attributed.

Approve or decline specific uses before publication where feasible.

Request changes to how your name, quote, or image is presented.

Withdraw your consent at any time before publication or release.

Thank you for supporting AbSec in our commitment to Aboriginal-led advocacy and cultural empowerment.
